

Repack and Reconditioning

Whether you are a food service customer looking for even color and size, or a retail customer looking for custom packaging, Penny's is the partner you've been looking for.

If you want consistency and quality for your wholesale, foodservice or retail establishment, our repack crew is here to help. Our repack line is equipped to handle truck loads of produce 7 days a week and for customers looking for an outside re-packer, Penny's will recondition your distressed produce into a usable product customized to your specifications.

Why is Penny's Repack Program right for you?

- Cost Control: You know the true cost of your product.
- Predictable Yield: Ability to order exactly what you need to reduce waste
- Upfront Cost: We will let you know what your cost will be before we start.
- Consistency: Having confidence that the product you receive has the same color, size and shape on an everyday basis.
